Practically every room in the schools here will receive first aid kits as a result of the purchase by the pupils of tubercular health seals sponsored by the Cameron History Club and the various civic societies of the city.

The sale of these stamps has been most satisfactory, the various club committees finding ready response to the appeal.

The clubs are offering a first aid kit to each room that buys seals in the amount of $10.

The sale of these seals is made possible through the Texas Public Health Association and in Cameron through the efforts of the clubs who are interested in the aid to those suffering from the great white plague.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

J. B. WHITE NAMED CHANCELLOR COMMANDER FOR ENSUING TERM

Milam Lodge No. 125 Knights of Pythias held the election of officers on Monday night and the following were named for the coming term.

J. B. White, Chancellor Commander
Robert McCown, Vice Chancellor
W. G. Gillis, Prelate
Fred Henry, Keeper of Records and Seal and Master of Finance.

E. W. Hood, Master of Exchequer
Harry Tag, Master of Work
Chas. McGehee, Master at Arms
Richard Vest, Inner Guard
Willard Reese, Outer Guard
W. O. Triggs, Trustee
W. W. Chambers, Grand Representative.

W. G. Gillis, Alternate Grand Representative.

These officers are to be installed at an early meeting. Earl K. Adrian is retiring as Chancellor Commander, having served the lodge for the past term. During his administration the lodge has made gains in membership and has progressed in the work.

Fred Henry, re-elected to his old position, was not able to attend the lodge meeting, having been confined to his home for the past several weeks.

The past year in the Pythian Lodge has been one of great progress and the members are looking forward to much initiatory work this winter and in the spring months.

Sunday Pictures In Cameron for Benefit of the Charities

Sunday movies in Cameron for the benefit of the Christmas Seal campaign, the Red Cross and the Associated Charities, are proving popular and Sam Hefley owner of the New Hefley Theater is to be congratulated on his public spirited move.

These shows are being held each Sunday for the month of December for the benefit of the above named organizations, the first show being held last Sunday. The shows are in the afternoon and so far a generous patronage has been the result.

Programs for the month of December have been published and distributed and the people of Cameron may find some excellent entertainment for the Sunday afternoon shows and should patronize these performances.

Mexican Cemetery

The city council has instructed a special committee of aldermen to report at the next meeting on the feasibility of establishing a cemetery for the Mexican people on property owned by the city east of the present cemetery of Oak Hill. This property is known as the gravel pit property and some twelve acres of land is owned by the city there.

S. W. Law and a delegation of Mexican citizens came before the council Monday night and they were assured of the city's co-operation.

GAS SUPPLY OFFERED TO CAMERON IF CONDITIONS ARE MET

City Shops Ablaze With Color as Christmas Arrives

FINN BEATS WYOMING WRESTLER; TO MEET GREEK MONDAY NIGHT

500 CONSUMERS AT $10 EACH IS NECESSARY

AVRIETT NAMED CHAIRMAN OF CHAMBER COMMERCE COMMITTEE TO CANVAS

Cameron is offered gas supply by officials of the Lone Star Gas Company of Dallas, meeting with directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Giles L. Avriett has been named chairman of a committee to canvas the people here and secure applications at $10 each. According to Mr. Walker, representing the gas company, it will require 500 consumers for the company to lay its lines to the city. Temple rates are guaranteed to Cameron with the usual avenue for settlement for all controversies regarding rates in the future before the railroad commission.

This is one of the most important opportunities ever offered to Cameron. The people here may now have this great and economical fuel by signing up for use of it and thus assure this convenience for Cameron.

The matter has been pending for some time. Already lines are being laid to Temple.

Oddfellows Election Names New Officers

R. A. Tag, secretary of the Oddfellows Lodge has announced the election of the following officers for the ensuing year 1928:

Chas. Swift, Noble Grand
Quinn Walker, Vice Grand
R. A. Tag, Secretary
Chas. Smith, Treasurer
W. W. Chambers, Delegate to Grand Lodge.

Jeff T. Kemp, Trustee.
J. L. Adams, Trustee.

The Oddfellows have made some progress during the past year and are looking forward to better times in 1928. Attendance of members is urged so as to encourage the work of the lodge here.

Fire Protection

Fire plugs are being sought by the city across the Santa Fe tracks east of the business section in order to give the people of that section better fire protection.

W. B. Levy Sale

This week the B. R. Goldberg store with W. B. Levy as manager, is announcing a Christmas sale. In this issue will be found a page announcement from Mr. Levy with an unusual showing of practical gifts at this big store. Low prices prevail.

STILL FOUND IN MILAM

The sheriff's department had a raid on the Dr. H. F. Chamberlain farm, located about 24 miles southwest of Cameron, in the Crush community. A 30 gallon copper still, 350 gallons of mash, gasoline stove and several empty barrels were found.

The raid was made Thursday night. Two negroes are in jail in connection with the affair. This still was one of the most complete and most expensive ever taken in Milam county.

CLARKSON STORE ROBBED

The general mercantile store at Clarkson, owned by R. K. Anderson, was entered Monday night by thieves and between $100 and $200 was taken. The sheriff's department is investigating.

The blue or sulphur-bottom whale is the largest species known; one specimen, captured off the west coast of North America, is said to have been 95 feet in length, with a weight of 147 tons.

STREET TOPPING PLAN IS NOW ASSURED HERE

BOND PENDING SIGNING OF CONTRACT—WORK IS INDEFINITE

Bond for the guarantee of signature to contract which was deposited with the city secretary in lieu of the check posted when bids were received by Brown and Root for the street topping work in Cameron, was approved Monday night.

The contractors were in the city Wednesday and declared their willingness to sign the contract as soon as the city completes the work of preparing the certificates to be signed by the property owners and the contract specifications are written.

Work on this contract will not be started before the first of the New Year and perhaps longer. Before the contract can be executed the city must sign the property owners and prepare all details of the contract, listing streets to be improved, based on the estimates of the engineer.

As a condition to their bid Brown and Root requires of the city that the council do this work and considerable time will be required to complete the details and as yet the city has made no efforts to get signatures to paving certificates which are to be accepted as part payment for the work. The city's part is to be paid with warrants, according to the plan announced by the council.

Indications are that the work will not be started before next spring.

50 FORD CARS SOLD IN PHOTO EXHIBITION

LOCAL DEALER FINDS PEOPLE WANT HENRY'S NEW PRODUCT AND PLACE ORDERS

Hubert Hefley announces that he has booked orders for more than 50 Ford cars of the new make from photographs exhibited at the sales room last Friday.

This is said to be a record without equal in the automotive industry—people buying a car they have never seen.

Mr. Hefley hoped to get a car this week but will likely not have one for exhibition until sometime next week.

It is said that quantity production will be entered upon by the Ford factory within the next two weeks or sooner.

Dennetral Would Meet Karhunaari Here; In Seeking Early Match

Harry Dennetral of Dallas, one of the greatest middleweight wrestlers of all time has written commander Akers of the Legion Post asking for a match with Henry Karhunaari, the Finn.

Dennetral, it will be remembered, was one of the few men to give Pet Brown of Taylor, a close contest. He stayed with the champion three hours and thirty minutes.

The Finn is anxious to meet the Dallas man and it is certain that the holidays will see the greatest match of the year in Cameron.

TAKING PASTEUR TREATMENT

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Denson and the two grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Butts, Glenn and Guy Kennen, are in Austin taking the Pasteur treatment from being around a three months' old German Police puppy that died shortly after having a hard fit Wednesday afternoon. The four were playing with the dog a few minutes before it took the fit, and to be safe, all are taking the treatment. The dog's head was sent to Austin and a positive case of rabies was pronounced.

MAT FANS THRILLED OVER COMING MATCH

MIGHTY FINN BEATS COWBOY AND PUTS UP BELT IN MATCH HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Henry Karhunaari, the Finn, is still King of the mat in this section, having defeated D. B. Chick, the big Cowboy from Wyoming in their second match here last Monday night.

The great Finn came back after losing the first fall to the giant westerner who used headlocks on the former champion to make him groggy. At the end of the first fall the Finn went to his dressing room apparently somewhat used up by the strength and aggression of the Cowboy, but returned at the end of ten minutes to tear into his western opponent and win the match from Chick who was unable to continue after the Finn pinned him to the mat within a few minutes after the bout was resumed.

More than 300 fans saw the match, cheering the aggression of the western giant as well as the superior craft of the mighty Finn who has succeeded in defeating all comers here.

Their Second Meeting

This was the second time within the past two months that the Finn has met the cowboy. Both times the westerner has taken the sting of defeat but was unable to win one fall of the three from Karhunaari. They met here in October following the Poole & Schneek shows with whom the cowboy is traveling. He is a good man and has never disappointed the fans.

To Meet Montana

Monday night, December 12 at the Legion Hall is to be staged the return match between Joe Montana and Karhunaari. An unexpected turn in affairs has brought about a condition of keen rivalry between the men, the Finn having announced his residence here finds that Montana also wants to live here and the match Monday night will be in the nature of a contest for the local spotlight. Both men admit that if they meet defeat it will mean unpopularity to a certain extent and possible change in plans. This situation has led some of the more outspoken fans to say that it will be a match to see who stays in Cameron and interest has been increased thereby.

Both Men Talk

Karhunaari says: "I want to make my home in Cameron. I like the people here and they seem to appreciate my work. I have been wrestling for a long time have met the best men in the game and have conquered them. If I cannot beat Montana I lose the position I have gained here and I am determined to give my best and am confident that I can beat the Brooklyn wrestler who must not be underestimated. I have offered to put up my belt if he will agree to make 165 pounds ringside. If he does not make the weight the belt is not to be entered as a trophy in the contest."

Montana says: "It was a piece of ill luck that cost me the match when I met the Finn here three weeks ago. I am confident I can win from him, although I do not underestimate his ability. I took like to Cameron and would like to live here and if I can win from Karhunaari I will have a position of advantage in the sport to which I have devoted the best part of my recent past."

Belt Is Offered

The Finn who is to meet Montana by challenge as the winner of the match with Chick, has offered to put his belt up as an inducement to the Greek and to back up his confidence, provided Montana can make 165 lbs. ringside. Both men will be weighed in Monday night when the match is called. If Montana makes the weight and wins from the Finn he gets possession of the prize belt won by Karhunaari as the greatest trophy of his long career as wrestler. This belt has the name plates of great men of the game he has beaten and he prizes it very highly and no one knows

J. M. RALSTON MAKES COLLECTION RECORD

MORE THAN $53,000 IN DELINQUENT TAXES COLLECTED BY HIM IN RECENT MONTHS

In connection with the report filed by county attorney A. J. Ralston and by county attorney A. J. Lewis and J. M. Ralston, special counsel for collection of delinquent taxes, with the commissioners court on collections made in recent months, it is interesting to note that the entire matter has been handled with sale of property or inconvenience to anyone who owed taxes to the county.

J. M. Ralston who was employed by the county to collect the delinquent taxes is to be congratulated for his work, handling it ably and efficiently, taking into consideration at all times the circumstances surrounding each case and having regard for home owners and has sold only one piece of property, and that by request of the defendant.

Report made to Commissioners' Court of Milam County, by the Tax Department of the County Attorney's office, for the last twelve months.

December 3, 1927.

Number of suits filed 380
Number of suits finally disposed 260
Amount collected on suit (exclusive of Court Cost) $53,442.34

Much of the above amount was collected from non-residents who neglected to pay their taxes, some as far back as 1908.

Only one piece of property has been sold under Order of Sale, and that was sold by request of the defendant, to a friend to enable him to pay the taxes. This does not include the large amount of delinquent taxes paid to the Tax Collector without suit.

Respectfully submitted,
A. J. Lewis, County Attorney
J. M. Ralston.

Father Spinneweber Visits Friends Here

Rev. Father Spinneweber, well known in Cameron and for a number of years, pastor at St. Monica's church, was in Cameron Wednesday to transact some business and to visit with friends and relatives here.

After leaving the Parish at St. Monica's he went to Burlington to recuperate, having had a long period of declining health. From Burlington he went to Houston and there has regained his health and when he arrived here Wednesday his old friends expressed gratification at his improvement.

Father Spinneweber is in charge of St. Anthony's home, having a most desirable charge in his church, preaching for the members of the home. He expressed interest in Cameron and the progress of the church here, and extends greetings to his many friends.

the Finn believes he will give less than the best that is in him to retain that prize.

Montana's poor showing against the Finn at their first match is not against the Brooklyn tornado, because he was badly hurt in the match and was unable to continue, in fact it was thought he would be out for several weeks but has overcome the effects of the hard smash by the fighting Finn and declares he is in the best condition of his life to meet the man who conquered him three weeks ago.

Mack Akers, the energetic commander of the Legion post who has succeeded in a big way with the post here this year, says that among the people who see the matches are ladies who enjoy the sport and they are encouraged to attend in larger numbers as the matches are conducted in such a way as to afford the most sane and wholesome surroundings and nothing offensive is permitted.

W. E. Lamb, co-worker with Akers in the staking of these matches is a tireless worker and deserves much credit for the work he is doing.

BIG STOCKS HERE FOR CHRISTMAS BUYING

MERCHANTS SHOW INTEREST IN NEEDS OF PEOPLE OF THE TERRITORY

Christmas time is here and Cameron shops are ablaze in colorful displays proclaiming the arrival of the season.

Some unusual displays are seen and everywhere the merchants and shop keepers are showing an interest in the demands of the people of the trade territory, assuring the public of money saving shopping and a wide general selection of gifts.

Show windows are unusually attractive and inside the stores the gift goods displays are the best in years.

Cameron merchants are looking forward to a greater volume of trade that at any time in recent years and have made preparations to serve the people to the best possible advantage.

CLORE & MOWDY PLANT IS MODERN CLEANERY

NEW MACHINERY INSTALLED AND BUSINESS IMPROVED

Cameron has one of the most modern clothes cleaning plants in this section of Texas.

Lee R. Clore and Thomas Mowdy, have installed complete power equipment in the Odd Fellows building where the tailoring business of Mr. Clore was recently moved from the Herald building.

This equipment is the most modern in the city, being of the latest type and is represented in four major pieces of machinery operated by electric motors, making possible quick delivery of clothes cleaned without the scent of gasoline.

Gasoline for this plant comes from a large underground tank to the washer and is pumped back and fourth in a continuous circuit of use, thus assuring pure fuel for washing. Clothes are run from the washer to the tumbler and thence to the drying machine being finished in a surprisingly short time.

In addition to the new equipment which gives to the plant an entire cleaning establishment operated by machinery, the building has been renovated inside, repainted and new light fixtures and is redecorated for the holidays.

Mr. Clore, a world war veteran, has been identified with the tailoring business for a number of years and Mr. Mowdy has been in the business in the past, having recently returned to his home here from Dallas.

The erection of this plant assures Cameron another up to date industry.

Geo. A. Thomas & Sons Gift Display Largest Ever Seen in Cameron

Looking over the city gift displays unusually good this year, one finds at the Geo. A. Thomas & Sons, drug store, 37 years in Cameron, a display of great merit, including many works of art and pieces of rare beauty and value.

This store has the largest display of gift goods in its history, each piece being selected with care by Rush A. Thomas, buyer for the firm who spent several days at market this year preparing for the Christmas holiday trade.

The store is showing something entirely new in glassware, featuring some pieces of foreign manufacture that are capturing the attention of all.

In silverware and in jewelry, many new fashions are seen. The announcement of this gift display will be interesting to the people of Cameron.

Court Proceedings

Will Davis was appointed administrator of the estate of Mattie D. Applin. Bond was fixed at $1,000. Jno. T. Hale, W. T. Ramsel and T. B. Ryan were appointed appraisers.

The will of W. W. Greer, deceased was admitted to probate. Miss Lola Greer was appointed independent executrix without bond. T. F. Hardy, R. H. McIntosh and C. N. Green were appointed appraisers. Inventory and appraisal approved.

The will of S. C. Smith, deceased, was admitted to probate. Mrs. Fannie E. Smith was appointed independent executrix without bond. C. R. Isaacs, Wynette Marrs and J. O. Newton were appointed appraisers.

Handy Davis was appointed guardian of the estate of Dewitt Patterson. John Mode, Hayden Lawrence and John Ryan were appointed appraisers. Bond, inventory and appraisal were approved.

Mrs. Marguerite Stainslaw of Rockdale was adjudged insane Tuesday by a jury and the court ordered the sheriff to convey her to the State Hospital at Austin.

The case of Hollman vs. Summerlin in county court which was set for trial Wednesday the 7th was continued by agreement.

In District Court

Martindale Mortgage Company vs. Hofstetter et al trespass to try title to 200 acres of land between Gause and the Brazos River was tried Monday and judgment rendered for plaintiff for title and possession of the land. This land had an oil well drilled on it by some Swedes a few years ago, and oil was found but territory was not developed.

The case of State vs. Sebe and Lenora Phillips is now on trial. Defendants are under indictment for theft of four turkeys.

The court appointed W. O. Newton of Cameron; Chas. Saller of Thorndale and John McAttee of Burlington jury commissioners for January term of court.

Highway 43 Thru Thorndale Improved

Mr. Reeves, district supervisor of state highways, had a bunch of trucks here Monday and Tuesday repairing the section of Highway 43 running from Williamson County line through Thorndale to the Oil Mill. This strip of road only a few hundred yards long is located on the railroad property and for this reason the national highway officials will not permit the designation of this route as a permanent highway and until a new route thru the town of Thorndale shall have been agreed upon and officially designated, this strip of road remains unimproved, and the work Mr. Reeves is now doing is only to fill up holes and make it possible for the public to use the road until the official route is determined.—Thorndale Champion.

Lee County Disturbed Over 'Tick' Question

The News is in receipt of a communication from Senator R. S. Bowers, of Caldwell, stating that there is a bill before the United States Congress which goes into effect May 1, 1928 (Crisp Bill) which will require all cattle shipped to northern markets for immediate slaughter to be clean. This will practically nullify the present way of handling the tick situation, and it is proposed to petition the Texas Congressmen to use their influence to repeal or postpone its taking effect until May 1, 1932. The petition was turned over to Mr. Nerger at the Citizens State Bank, and if any citizen is interested in circulating or signing the petition, it can be had from Mr. Nerger. If more petitions are desired, they may be obtained from Senator Bowers.—Giddings News.

Methodist Church

Methodist folks are beginning to get ready for Christmas. We want every Methodist man, woman and child in Cameron in our Sunday School and church before Christmas. Start in this Sunday.

Sunday School will meet at 9:45. There is a class and a department for pupils of all ages.

The Senior and the Epworth League both will meet at 6:00 o'clock. All of the young people of these ages should come this week.

The pastor will preach at 11:00 and 7:00. The text for the morning is "Make This Valley Full of Ditches." The choir will furnish good music at both hours.

Milam Farmers Terracing Land

Cameron, Tex., Dec. 5.—Milam county farmers are coming to the front in the conservation of the soil on their farms. According to County Agent Geo. Banzhaf, there has been over six thousand acres of land terraced in the county in the past three years, besides a large portion that has been protected from the excess water-fall by open ditches and levees. The valuation of the land is estimated to be increased ten dollars per acre by terracing. Many farms that were considered worn out three years ago are now producing crops that are a credit to any farm. Mr. Banzhaf states that he is not able to lay the lines as fast as the farmers want their land terraced. Each farmer has to await his time.

Christian Aid

The Missionary Society of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Beard on November 28 at 3 o'clock. Mrs. V. P. Wooley was leader. Subject, "Facing new frontier in America." Mrs. Woolly read 13th chapter of Corinthians. Mrs. Wallace Jones sang a solo. Talks were made on various phases of work being done by the Christian church among other races in our country and the attitude most American's assume toward foreigners in the United States by Messdames Jim Adams, W. B. Ryan, Wallace Jones, Guy Slocumb and Ray Burke.

A short business session was held with Mrs. Adams. It was voted to omit the December meeting. Next Monday will be January TOINAEET meeting will be January 4 with Mrs. W. B. Ryan. The meeting closed with a prayer by Mrs. Slocumb. A social hour was enjoyed. The hostess served salad with whipped cream, cake and punch.

Treble Clef Club

Last Thursday afternoon the Junior Music Club met with Lola Clinton. The rooms of the home were decorated with fall roses and poinsettias. Lena Bell Baskin was leader. There were 19 members present. Cornelia Gunn gave a piano solo, Inez Evans and Dora Emily Moore sang a duet. Gladys Davis gave a piano solo. Harriet Flinn gave a very interesting talk on instruments and orchestras. Lois Robbins gave a talk on orchestras. During the social hour Inez Evans played popular selections. The hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. L. Clinton served sandwiches, cake and hot tea. Mrs. C. W. Bradbury, sponsor for the club was present.

Drink Water If Kidneys Bother

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Thursday 42 Club

The Thursday 42 club met this week with one of the popular members, Mrs. John E. Mangum on East Thirteenth. This was a lovely party noted for its simplicity and beauty, both in decorations and table accessories. The flowers for the decorations were pink and red roses from Mrs. Mangum's own garden. They were beautiful and were placed in many vantage places. The score cards and tally pads were in floral design also. The hostess served a delightful salad plate to only a few club members and a few neighbors.

Notice To War Veterans And Their Relatives

On January 1st, next, the time will expire for World War Veterans to file application for Adjusted Service Certificates (commonly known as the 'Bonus'), which law was passed by Congress on May 19, 1924.

If World War Veterans died, either before or since the enactment of said law, without making application for this Bonus, then the widow, children or dependent mother or father can make application therefor.

It will be too late, however, to file this application after the first day of next January and I am anxious that all parties in my District entitled to the benefits of this Act may not be barred from making claim by reason of limitation.

Write me at address below and I will send necessary blanks.

Alumnus Football

Bill Jones had been the shining star upon his college team. His tackling was ferocious and his bucking was a dream.

When husky William took the ball beneath his brawny arm. They had two extra men to ring the ambulance alarm.

Bill hit the line and ran the ends like some mad bull amuck. The other team would shiver when they saw him start to buck.

And when some rival tackler tried to block his dashing pace. On waking up, he'd ask, "Who drove that truck across my face?"

Bill had the speed, Bill had the weight. Bill never bucked in vain. From goal to goal he whizzed along while fragments strewn the plain.

And there had been a standing bet, which no one tried to call. That he could make his distance thru a ten-foot granite wall.

When he wound up his college course each student's heart was sore. They wept to think Bull-throated Bill would sock the line no more.

Not so with William—his his dreams he saw the field of Fame, Where he would buck to glory in the swirl of Life's big game.

Sweet are the dreams of college life, before our faith is nicked—The world is but a cherry tree that's waiting to be picked;

The world is but an open road—until we find one day, How far away the goal posts are that called us to the play.

So, with the sheepskin tucked beneath his arm in football style, Bill put on steam and dashed into the thickest of the pile;

With eyes ablaze he sprinted where the laureled highway led—When Bill woke up his scalp hung loose and knots adorned his head.

He tried to run the ends of life, but with rib-crashing toss A rent collector tackled him and threw him for a loss.

And when he switched his course again and dashed into the line The massive guard named Failure did a toodle in his spine.

Bill tried to punt out of the rut, but ere he turned the trick Right Tackle, Competition scuttled through and blocked the kick.

And when he tackled at Success in one long, vicious prod The Fullback Disappointment steered his features in the sod.

Bill was no quitter, so he tried to buck a higher gear, But Left Guard Envy broke it up and stood him on his ear;

Whereat he aimed a forward pass—but in two vicious bounds Big Center Greed slipped thru a hole and rammed him out of bounds.

But one day, when across the Field of Fame the goal seemed dim, The wise old Coach Experience came up and spoke to him.

"Old Boy," he said, "the main point now, before you win your bout, Is keep on bucking failure till you've worn the pilfer out."

"And kid, cut out this fancy stuff—go in there low and hard: Just keep your eye upon the ball and play on, yard by yard;

And, more than all, when you are thrown or tumbled with a crack, Don't sit there whinnying—hustle up and keep on coming back;

"Keep coming back with all you've got, without an alibi. If Competition trips you up or lands upon your eye,

Until at last above the din you hear this sentence spilled: 'We might as well let this bird thru before we all get killed.'

"Yop'll find the road is long and rough, with soft spots far apart, Where only those can make the grade who have the Uphill Heart."

And when they stop you with a thud or halt you with a crack Let Courage call the signals as you keep on coming back.

"Keep coming back, and though the world may romp across your spine Let every game's end find you still upon the battling line;

For when the One Great Scorer comes to mark against your name, He writes—not that you won or lost—but how you played the Game."

Credit for introducing the idea of daylight-saving time should go to Benjamin Franklin, who, while minister to France in 1748, wrote a article explaining how, by changing their clocks the people of Paris could save millions of dollars a year in candles.

Henry Woods, a prominent farmer and stockman, between Milano and Burleson county, had the misfortune Tuesday to break his right leg in three places between the knee and ankle while working with some cattle. He is at the Cameron hospital for treatment.

The Dead Sea, in the southeast border of Palestine, which covers, according to tradition, the towns of Sodom and Gomorrah, is the lowest spot on the earth's surface, lying 1,300 feet below the sea level.

It has been estimated that the volume of stone in the great pyramid weighs nearly 7,000,000 tons; there is enough to build a city of 22,000 ordinary houses.

DO THEY LOSE PERSPECTIVE

At the convening Congress, the air is filled with political talk about the necessity of putting government into business. There is not as much necessity today as there has been in the past, for the simple reason that this nation has worked out a system of public regulation of private industry which surpasses in efficiency government ownership and operation of industry.

Apparently many public officials, when they move to Washington, lose their perspective of common, everyday American life. They are beset by this class and that class, seeking special privileges for a favored few. They seem to forget the very fundamentals of our government, which Thomas Jefferson so ably set forth when he said, "That is governed best which is governed least."

The safety of this nation, its traditions, its constitution and its institutions, rests largely with the common citizen and the rural editors who are living the everyday American life, and whose viewpoint is not warped by too close proximity to the whirlpool of political life and socialistic agitation which makes our state and national capitals a difficult place for calm and deliberate thinking.

DOUBLE PENALTY FOR "GUN-TOTIN" CRIMINALS

There is a lot of talk about how to reduce the crime wave and one of the first suggestions is to prohibit the ownership of firearms.

This would remove protection which the private citizen has against burglary, robbery and assault, but it would not prevent the criminal from securing firearms. His business is unlawful and it would not bother him at all to go a step further and procure arms contrary to the law, smuggled in from other sources.

The fact that the private citizen could not lawfully buy arms would make the work of the burg just that much easier.

The logical way to reduce crime is to assure speedy punishment, also to provide that the use of a gun or any other form of concealed weapon in committing a crime should demand an increased sentence, with no possibility of probation or suspended sentence.

The average American citizen enjoys target practice and he enjoys hunting. It is healthy sport and recreation. Why should he be prohibited the use of a gun on the theory that this will prevent the use of guns by criminals? Why not make the penalty double severe on the criminal using a gun, instead of penalizing a law-abiding citizen who uses a gun for legitimate purposes?

To prohibit the manufacture and sale of small arms in order to prevent crime, would be equivalent to prohibiting the manufacture and sale of automobiles to prevent reckless drivers from inflicting injury on the public.

ARE YOU EDUCATED?

It seems to be about time that we had a re-estimation of our definition of education. We are demanding things of the person we call educated which we may have no right to demand of him.

The tendency to look on the educated as a super-intellectual seems to be a hangover from the days when Oliver Goldsmith modestly confessed to a yearning "amidst the swains to show my book-learned skill," when he pictured the rustics ranged around the village school master discoursing in "words of learned length and thundering sound: And still they gazed, and still the wonder grew that one small head could carry all he knew."

The sum total of things to be known has increased many hundredfold since those days, so that even Goldsmith's village master might be considered as nothing remarkable. From this great store of knowledge the schools pick out certain things which are worth knowing and attempt to impart this knowledge to boys and girls. We can remember only a small part of what is thus learned, and the chances are that when we meet someone who has remembered the same things which we have remembered we call him educated.

This, of course, is wrong. Some of us may know things which we did not learn in school. It is conceivable that a man may be a most excellent teacher in some line without having heard of Eli Whitney, and it also is conceivable that one may be able to answer all of the Edison questions and still be a failure as a teacher.

THE TURKEY GOBBLER

The great American bird is not the hen nor the eagle, but the turkey gobbler. The gobbler is lord of the barnyard and field marshal among the fowls. See him strut in the fullness of his pride, tail feathers spreading, head up, wings trailing, but not ingloriously. His crimson comb and purplish wattles give him the appearance of a red-faced and important gentleman who is querulously concerned in everything going on about him. Such pomposity, dignity and swagger is rare. His irritable "Gobble, gobble, gobble" strikes terror into the hearts of little children, but is music in the ears of the more sophisticated who envision him trussed up in a roaster and stewing in his own juice.

The turkey has been closely associated with American history from the beginning. It will be remembered that at the famous Thanksgiving feast of the Pilgrim Fathers in November, 1621, in which the friendly Indians participated wild turkey was the chief delicacy. Once this elusive bird was plentiful but now the wild species is all but extinct. In only a few sections of the country the wild turkey may be found. It begins to look as though the domestic turkey is destined to go the way of its progenitor. Young turkeys are hard to raise and the Thanksgiving and Christmas demand exceeds the supply. No one wants to see the day when the turkey has disappeared from the land and the proud gobbler struts and fumes no more.

There is no substitute for the turkey gobbler in sight. As compared with him the rooster is plebeian and the gander "a lesser breed without the law." The gobbler is a symbol of prosperity and a token of hospitality as well.

MR. HATCHER'S DAY

State Treasurer Hatcher is exercising his privilege of saying "I told you so" in the matter of the state revenue surplus, and is exercising it with avidity and persistence. For this he can not be blamed, since Mr. Hatcher, of the three members of the State Automatic Tax Board, alone contended for a lower rate than that which was set. Mr. Hatcher took the position at the time that a rate of 22 cents was sufficient for the State's needs. The other members, Comptroller Terrell and Governor Moody, overruled him and placed the rate at 25 cents. This rate was fixed on the presumption that the amount remaining in the General Revenue Fund on September 1 would be $500,000. When September 1 came around, to begin the fiscal year for which the tax rate was set, the General Fund was found to contain $2,144,000. Governor Moody then made the proposal to reset the rate at a lower figure the proposal which was held illegal by the Attorney General.

Mr. Hatcher now says that "no explanation offered by anyone is an excuse for such a mistake." It does seem that an error of $1,644,000 in figuring revenues for a two-months' period, especially when those revenues were actually less than for the same period the year before, is not only extraordinary but is almost an impossibility. Mr. Hatcher's statement makes the point that there was no sudden and unexpected excess of revenues to roll up the $2,144,000 balance when only $500,000 might have been expected. July and August receipts this year, he says, were actually $122,000 less than for the same period in 1926 intervening between the date of setting the tax rate and the beginning of the fiscal year for which it was set. To make it worse, he says, the disbursements for the two months this year were $1,000,000 more than for the same period last year.

Mr. Hatcher can hardly be criticized for making the most of his advantage in the matter even when he reveals a state of disagreement among the members of the Tax Board which itself may be partly responsible for the fiasco. Taxpayers of the State are compelled this year to pay in taxes over and above the State's needs a sum amounting to at least $1,800,000. If the tax board's figures on revenues for the current fiscal year are no better than its estimate of last year's revenues—and this made at a time when the year lacked but two months of completion—the extra charge upon the tax payers may be much greater than $1,800,000. It is a very unsatisfactory condition of administration of the State's fiscal affairs when a sum much larger than the revenue requirements of the State is collected. There are too many ways for such surpluses to be turned into a dead loss to the tax payers.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

HENRY KARHUNAARI

JOE MONTANA

These are the principals in the wrestling match here Monday night, December 12. The Finn has posted his belt against Montana if the Greek can make 165 pounds ringside. If he makes this weight and beats Karhunaari he will take off the belt that has been the property of the Finn for a number of years.

Montana will try to make the weight but will meet the local champion whether he makes the weight or not. This will be the best match of the year. Both men want to live in Cameron and they both agree that they must win to live here.

Montana is a heavier man than the Finn and the latter gave away some poundage in the match three weeks ago. The Brooklyn man was hurt and lost the match to the Finn.

Both men said they were in the pink of condition for the match next Monday night and the fans are looking forward to a great exhibition.

The meeting here yesterday of Dodge Brothers officials and the unveiling of the new car was the second in a series to be held in the country the second to be in New York, December 7 and 8.

"Dodge Brothers, Inc., is prepared to enjoy next year the biggest business in its history," Mr. Wilmer said. "For eighteen months we have been engaged almost exclusively in a readjustment of manufacturing facilities which will permit us to produce the Victory Six, which we consider the greatest dollar value ever offered. Dodge Brothers has built and sold more than 2 million cars."

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, because no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Dodge Dealer Attends Kansas City Meeting Tells of New Six Car

Pope Sapp of the Sapp Motor Company has just returned from Kansas City where he attended a meeting of Dodge dealers. More than 100 dealers left Dallas November 26 and the conference was held there on November 28 and 29.

Mr. Sapp announces that a new six is to be made by Dodge to be known as the "Victory Six." The following paragraph is taken from the Kansas City Star's account of the meeting:

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of some 600 motor car dealers from Kansas City's territory at Ararat temple E. C. Wilmer, president of Dodge Brothers, revealed an entirely new Dodge car to be known as the Victory Six. The new car was privately shown to the dealers and it was reported as having been received with much enthusiasm.

Although no details were made public, the new car is reported to be a new departure in automobile engineering. Mr. Wilmer characterizes it as a radical improvement over present day design. No mention was made of the price. The president of Dodge Brothers emphasized that with the early production of the Victory Six, the company's program for 1928 would be complete, consisting in addition to the new car, the present 4 cylinder car and the present Senior Line, a 6 cylinder car.

BAD SPELLS

Of Backache and Weakness Helped by Cardui.

Because she wants other women to know about Cardui, Mrs. Ina Mae Jirright, Route No. 2, Troy, Ala., says this: "Mostly, I was afflicted with bad spells of backache. At times I felt as if my back would break. I would drag one foot after another, in a helpless sort of a way, and once I got down in bed."

"My husband told me about Cardui and got me a bottle. I soon found out what a fine medicine it was. Ever since my first experience with it, I have continued taking it for womanly troubles and, after a few bottles, I have always been well."

A dime spent for clams recently netted Raymond Curtis of New Bedford, Massachusetts, $174.60. One of the shellfish contained what Curtis thought was a black shoe button, but the jeweler to whom he took it thought differently, declaring it to be a rare and beautiful specimen of black pearl worth $175.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP BY THIS SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentha-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torments and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles' Mentha-Sulphur from any good druggist.

STOP RHEUMATISM WITH RED PEPPER

When you are suffering with rheumatism so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Instant relief. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Frees the blood circulation, breaks up the congestion, and the old rheumatism torture is gone. Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Use it for lumbago, neuritis, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, colds in chest. Almost instant relief awaits you. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

Come On, Folks!

There's a Crazy Man in Town

This Self Service Cash Store don't know how to make a profit. They say we do business for fun—just to see big crowds, that's all we care about, etc.

Nobody can meet his prices. They don't want to sell that cheap.

"Oh, let him go ahead," they say, "He will soon quit popping off and then we can make a lot of money." We, say, we had rather be crazy and save Cameron and Milam county folks money than to be smart like the rest of the grocery guys and worry about profits all the time.

COUNTY BOARD URGES PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

RESOLUTION ASKS CHAIRMAN OF BOARD TO APPEAR BEFORE COMMISSIONERS

The County Board of Education held its regular meeting in the office of the County Superintendent Monday morning at ten o'clock. Among other things, a resolution was passed requesting the chairman of the Board of Education to meet with the Commissioners Court at their next regular meeting, December 15th, urging favorable consideration of the appointment of a health nurse for Milam county. This matter has been presented to the Court at various times but definite action was not taken at any previous meeting.

A professional library for the teachers of Milam County has been begun and a number of books are already on the shelves in the office of the County Superintendent. This material will prove very helpful to the teachers of this county who are striving to improve professionally.

No official notice has been received from the State Department as to the exact date when the Rural Inspector of State Aid Schools will visit this county but it is quite likely that Milam County will not be visited by representatives from the State Department until after the Christmas holidays. Both teachers and trustees have worked diligently to see that all requirements for State Aid School have been met. There are twenty-three schools in Milam County making application for this aid which is apportioned from a fund of one million five hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of promoting the public school interests of rural schools and equalizing the educational opportunities afforded by the state to all children of scholastic age living in the small and financially weak school districts.

The State Department has mailed to the office of the County Superintendent, copies of The Public School Laws of the State. These bulletins have been revised and include recent legislation enacted by the fortieth Legislature. Only one copy can be furnished each school board as the State Department, because of lack of funds, would not be permitted to furnish a copy to each trustee in the State.

League Party

Thursday night in the basement of the Methodist church from 7:30 until 10 o'clock the members of the Senior League enjoyed an auto party under the direction of Miss Oma Graham. There were many games and contests all having some thoughts of cars either the name or color or cast. Before the guests started on their long journey to Sleepy Land they were bidden to drive by the filling station and have their cars filled and put in fine order. Tire (daughnuts) and lub. (chocolate) were given each driver. Mrs. R. B. Rylander and Mrs. R. L. Williams were sponsors for the young people and assisted in the entertainment.

Seal Sale Larger Than for Past Year Texas Report Shows

The receipts for the first week of the Annual Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale are larger this year than for several years, but H. A. Wroe, Treasurer of the Texas Public Health Association points out there is yet a long way to go if $100,000 is raised.

Mr. Wroe further states that last year the money raised by these penny seals paid for the health work done by the Texas Public Health Association. This work included teaching health to school children, school nursing, Child Health Training course in the University, health surveys and other health activities, reaching nearly 200,000 persons.

"There is yet a great deal to do in Texas before tuberculosis is eliminated as a menace to its citizens and the fight against this menace, financed solely by the sale of seals, must be continued with unabated energy," stated Mr. Wroe. The death rate from tuberculosis has declined from 200 per 100,000 of population to 86.6 in the last 20 years in the registration area. Texas is not included in that area but comparing these figures to Texas it would mean that the state loses approximately 4730 citizens each year from this one disease and that 12,570 are suffering with active tuberculosis.

Sidewalks Being Laid In Ninth Street Improvement

In the way of improvements in Cameron this week will be noticed the long line of cement walk being laid on Ninth Street. The walk will be on the North and West side of the lot on which John Ryan lives and also the vacant lot belonging to Mr. Ryan just east of his home place. Also the walk will be laid in front of the home of Jim Neinst, J. E. Holtzclaw, August Gurecky, H. L. Luckett and the two lots belonging to Mr. Grabain and connect with the walk now in front of the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Grabain and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Abrams. This work is being done by J. L. Barmore. This speaks well for the home owners and add much to the street which now has new and modern homes.

Ouch! Rub Backache, Stiffness, Lumbago

Rub Pain from back with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

Builder's Class

The Builder's Class of the Christian church met with Mrs. Ray Burke Tuesday night for a social and business meeting. The rooms of the home were decorated in autumn leaves and Christmas bells. Mrs. Wallace Jones led the devotional using the theme "Time." She read from Ecclesiastes and gave a reading, "If I Had The Time." A short business session was held. Many games and contests were enjoyed. Each guest was given a Christmas package and in one contest were asked to see how many times this package could be given in exchange for another in the space of two minutes. On a miniature tree with lovely lights and decorations hung a gift for everyone present. Mrs. Burke served a salad plate with brick cream on the top of which was a Christmas tree. Guests other than members were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Plate of Tracy and Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Cruse.

Missionary Society

The ladies of the Methodist church met for a business meeting. Mrs. Davis, president presided. Mrs. Joe Lindsey led the devotional reading.

The parsonage committee reported that the entire exterior of the parsonage had been redecorated and was out of debt. This is a splendid work for the ladies. They have worked and helped so untiringly since the erection several years ago. Next Monday the ladies will meet in circles.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping." Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. MINOR ILLS

Dizziness, Biliousness, Colds and Others, Relieved by Black-Draught.

"I used to be bothered with dizzy spells," says Mr. Andy Parker, Route 4, Fort Payne, Ala., "and would get to feeling tired and my feet were heavy."

"I had a bad taste in my mouth. My eyes would burn. Then, pretty soon, I would have a mean headache. 'Someone told me about Black-Draught. I began taking it, and it helped me."

"Black-Draught has been our main medicine in the house now, for about twenty-five years. We take it for biliousness, colds and almost all minor ills. It's the first thing my folks and I think of taking, when we feel bad."

"We recommend it very highly."

Try it for the ills Mr. Parker mentions. For sale everywhere. Insist on the genuine.

Senior B. Y. P. U.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. members met on the church lawn last Friday evening at 7 o'clock and left from there at 7:30 for the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Howard to enjoy a weenie roast and picnic. A large bon fire was built in the yard and weenies were roasted and served with pickles, bread and bananas. After this delightful lunch the young people gathered in the living room for a score of games, fortune telling and an hour of much fun and merriment.

Presbyterian Auxiliary

The ladies of the Presbyterian church met in circles Monday, all women doing some special white cross work. Circle one met with Mrs. Judd Davis with 4 present. Circle three met with Mrs. Lu Meyers with three present. Circle two met with Mrs. A. F. Mitchell with three present. Hostess served salad plate. Circle four met with Mrs. Schofner Sterling with 4 present. Hostess served marshmallows, low pudding and cake. Next Monday the ladies meet in circles.

Auction 42 Club

Mrs. Clifton Jenness was hostess to the Auction 42 club Tuesday at her home. The approach of Christmas was heralded by the use of bells, wreaths and many other symbols of Christmas. Baskets of poinsettias were used about the rooms. There were three tables set for 42 with accessories all in keeping with the decorations.

The hostess served a dainty salad plate which carried out the green and red color scheme. The plates were served on trays in the centers of each stood a miniature Santa Claus with a pack on his back and in the pack was a lovely bud vase. These were given as table favors. Guests for the afternoon were: Mesdames J. L. Coleman, S. Kestenbaum, C. F. Green, W. B. Levy, Oxsheer Smith and Miss Winnie Henderson.

Baptist W. M. S.

The ladies of the Baptist church met for business at the annex, Mrs. Henley presiding.

The reports from personal service and benevolence were very good for the month. The women of Milam county have adopted a Buckner Orphan's Home girl and will send her through Baylor College. The local auxiliary sent Buckner Orphan's Home $45 Thanksgiving.

The week of prayer was observed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday on Foreign Missions. A contribution for Lottie Moon offering was taken. The girls auxiliary assisted with the program Wednesday assisted by Mrs. Hackabeil.

Tuesday Bridge

Last Tuesday afternoon Miss Sallie Kate McLane was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge Club at her home on N. Crockett.

There were four tables arranged for bridge. The score pads and tally cards were little Holland boys and girls. Chrysanthemums were the chosen flowers for the afternoon. The hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. Hayden Lawrence served salad, hot rolls, coffee and a confection. This club offers no prizes or favors of any kind at their regular club meetings.

Methodist Church

Sunday School workers council of the Methodist church met Thursday night of last week and planned their Christmas program and Christmas tree.

Mrs. W. O. Triggs is teaching each Tuesday night a mission study course from the book, "New Paths for Old Purposes," to the members of the Senior league. Much interest is being shown by the young people.

Editor Terry Goes To Bellevue Where He Will Buy Plant

Wirt Terry former editor of the Thorndale Champion, associated with Mr. Norris in the publication of that estimable paper, was in Cameron this week on his way to Bellevue where he is to look over a plant with the view of purchasing.

Matt B. Bailey accompanied Mr. Terry and will pass upon the linotype in the plant. Mr. Bailey was formerly operator in the plant of the Herald. Mr. Terry will ask Mr. Bailey to move to Bellevue to operate the machine for him.

Milam county regrets to lose Mr. Terry from the ranks of its useful and leading citizens and all his friends wish him well in his new undertaking.

Mrs. Henry Ondrej

Mrs. Mary Ondrej, 82, pioneer Milam county woman, mother of Joe Ondrej, died at the home of her son at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, December 5, 1927.

Mrs. Ondrej had been in failing health for the past 16 years and prior to her death was confined to her bed for six years. Death came as a severe shock and grief to her son, Joe, who has given her every attention and provided for her comforts in every way.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ondrej were held in Cameron at the Catholic church at 9 a. m. Monday December 7, 1927, the services most impressive being conducted by Rev. Father Apel.

Burial was made in the Catholic Cemetery with a large number of relatives and friends mourning the death of this pioneer woman. The Herald with a host of friends extends sympathy to Joe Ondrej in the loss of his mother.

Card of Thanks

I take this method of extending my heartfelt thanks to those who came to my assistance during the recent illness and death of my son, Alton Drago. Words cannot express my appreciation nor tell the sad loss I feel in the death of my boy. I appreciate the many kind deeds, the words of sympathy and the floral offerings and wish to thank all who assisted me in any way.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief. Ah! How good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing, no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

To the sheriff or any constable of Milam County.—Greeting

You are hereby commanded to summon John J. Jenkins by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Milam County, to be held at the court house thereof in Cameron, on the 2nd day of January 1928, the same being the 1st Monday in January 1928 then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 17th day of November 1927, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 8875, wherein Mrs. Nellie Jenkins is plaintiff and John J. Jenkins is defendant said petition alleging:

Statutory grounds of cruel treatment as cause for divorce decree, also praying for custody of minor children and allowance for support.

Herein fail not, but have before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, Penn Wolf, Clerk of the District Court of Milam County, Texas.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, in Cameron, this the 17th day of November A. D. 1927.

SPECIFICATIONS GIVEN FOR NEW FORD CAR

MARVELOUS NEW FEATURES
GUARANTEE GREATER
PERFORMANCE

Henry Ford's new car is a reality. Thousands of people attended the opening showing in San Antonio Friday, more thousands came on Saturday and still more thousands today. The long heralded, much discussed 'New Ford' is here. And never has a new automobile been so eagerly waited for.

It is a new and modern motor car. Contrary to speculative opinion it is not a refinement of the Model T Ford, but an entirely new car from radiator cap to tail light. It is distinctly a new and modern car designed to meet new and modern conditions. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation. San Antonio Ford dealers, in talking of performance, stated that the new Ford would hold its own against almost any car on the road, regardless of price. A rather enthusiastic statement, but San Antonio Ford dealers this week are a rather enthusiastic bunch. They point to Henry Ford's statement, "No other automobile manufacturer could possibly give you such a fine automobile at such a low price, because no other manufacturer does business the way we do."

Those who saw the cars found a bit of European touch to the bodies—bodies different from those of other days. They are of all steel, and appointments and hardware are of a type seldom found in a low-priced car. Upholstery is of rich durable material and the cushions are deep and easy. The headlights and radiator shell are fully nickled, as are the door handles and window lifts. The speedometer, gasoline gauge, ammeter and theft-proof coincidental lock are all mounted on an instrument panel of satin finish nickel, illuminated by a lamp in the center.

Seat space is generous and ample, even for men and women who are inclined to be a trifle overweight and there is ample room even for the six-footer. Clear vision is obtained by the use of unusually narrow pillars in body construction. Windows are pleasingly large.

Another attractive feature, especially in this day of the unusual in motor cars, is the color selection. The new Ford may be had in Niagara blue, Arabian sand, Dawn Gray and Gun-metal blue. This is an unusual feature in a car priced so low. The pyroxylin lacquer finish is claimed to be the most durable, not affected by heat or cold, withstands all kinds of weather and is not easily marred or scratched. It is said that washing improves the finish.

The statement that the new Ford will do 55 and 60 miles an hour is said to be conservative. A speed in excess of 65 miles per hour is claimed for it in actual road tests. It appears to be a steady car, capable of fast travel in comfort and safety.

A Remarkable Engine

The new Ford has a four cylinder engine which develops 40 brake horse power at only 2,200 revolutions per minute. This means 55 to 60 miles per hour without a highspeed engine. Such an engine is a new development—a really amazing engineering feat. This feature furthers the life of the motor because the lower speed of the motor makes less wear on parts.

The new Ford is remarkably quick on the get-away. In tests in high gear, with a Tudor sedan body and passengers, it has accelerated from 5 to 25 miles per hour in 8 1-2 seconds, according to dealers here.

Preventing Vibration

The engine is said to be practically vibrationless. This is due in part to the aluminum balanced crankshaft, to its lower r. p. m., the statically and the aluminum upstons. To insure quiet, the timing gears are made of bakelized fabric instead of metal and the cams on the crankshaft are so designed that the valve push rods follow them closely, preventing valve clicking.

Gasoline Economy

It will get from 20 to 30 miles per gallon of gasoline, it is claimed, depending on the speed at which you drive. Feed to the carburetor is by gravity from a unique welded one-piece steel tank integral with the cowl.

Unique New Oiling System

The oiling system is distinctly Ford in design, being a combination of pump, splash and gravity feed. The pump delivers the oil to the valve chamber, from which it flows by gravity feed to the main bearings of the crankshaft. An oil dipper is provided on each connecting rod bearing cap, so that the force of rotation of the crankshaft drives oil into the connecting rod bearings, as well as splashing oil over all working parts within the engine. This is a simple but entirely dependable system, assuring proper lubrication of each bearing and each cylinder without pressure.

The new Ford car has a centrifugal water pump, and large radiator. The fan runs on the pump shaft and is made according to airplane propeller design. It is exceedingly difficult to make the new Ford engine over-heat, only abuse will do it, such as running without enough oil.

Ignition System of New Design

The ignition system is unique in mechanical design, extremely simple, and will give the car owner exceptional performance with a minimum of trouble. There is only one coil, in a waterproof case. The distributor is located on top of the engine where it is clean and easily accessible. Connections are made to the spark-plugs by short bronze springs. The coincidental lock on the new Ford is placed in the ignition circuit. It not only replaces the regular ignition switch to the distributor a steel cable protects the primary current wire, this wire being grounded to the distributor casing, thereby making it impossible to wire around the device. The new generator is of the power-hous type.

Standard, Selective Gear Shift

The new Ford transmission is of the selective sliding gear type, with standard shift. It has three speeds forward and one reverse. The main shaft runs on ball bearings, the countershaft on roller bearings, and the reverse idler on a bronze bearing. This is the highest type of bearing mounting and is unusual on light cars. All gears are made of heat-treated chrome alloy steel.

Exceptionally Easy to Steer

The steering gear is irreversible. Shocks are not transmitted back to the hands of the driver. A light touch is enough to guide the car safely. Large steering wheel is made of steel, covered with hard rubber. Light switch and horn button are conveniently located on top of wheel.

New Four-Wheel Brakes

New brakes on the new Ford car are an exclusive Ford development. They are of the mechanical, internal expanding-shoe-type and are self-centering. This is the most reliable and the simplest type of four wheel brake and the easiest to adjust all adjustments are made from the outside without removing any parts. No special tools are needed. Uniform, correct adjustment on each wheel is quickly and easily obtained. The brake pedal and the hand lever each operate all four brakes. Total braking surface in 168 square inches. All brake working parts are cadmium plated to make them rust proof.

Multiple Dry-Disc Clutch

The clutch is of the multiple dry-disc type, which is the most reliable. It is also the easiest to operate, for it takes hold gently and smoothly. It has four driving discs and five driven discs.

Comfortable Transverse Springs

The springs are of the transverse semi-elliptic type, designed and built for the new Ford. This type, which was used in the Model T was adopted to the new car because no better spring type could be found. They are built of the finest spring steel, and the leaves are wide and thin. Each spring is built up of varying sizes and number of leaves to give proper flexibility and to meet riding requirements of the different body types. The size and number of leaves used in these springs is one of the reasons why the New Ford is such a comfortable car. The construction of the transverse springs also contributes to the safety and efficiency of the four-wheel brakes.

Hydraulic Shock Absorbers

The finest type hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment. These combine with the low center of gravity, the minimum unsprung weight, and the easy riding qualities of the transverse springs to make the new Ford car one of the most comfortable cars on the road today.

Floating Rear Axle

The rear axle of the new Ford is of the three-quarters-floating type. The axle housings are made entirely of steel, built up by welding steel forgings to steel tubing. The differential housing, to which these housings are bolted, is made of rolled channel steel. The axle shafts carry none of the weight of the car, the wheels running in roller bearings on the housing. Drive is by spiral bevel gear.

Steel-Spoke Wheels

Original design and great strength are two features that mark the unique, Ford-designed steel-spoke wheels. Each wheel is assembled by welding and becomes one piece of metal. Spokes cannot work loose. Each spoke has a tensile strength of 4,000 pounds. Outside spokes do not cross, so that the wheels are easy to clean. There are only 30 spokes in each wheel.

Grease Gun Lubrication

The chassis is lubricated by the pressure grease gun system, the simplest and most effective method of lubrication.

By MARGARET BRUCE

LAST CHRISTMAS when I opened one of the family boxes that came each year filled with many small gifts from every member of one branch of relatives to every member of the other branch, I came across a package labeled "from little Phillip to Aunt Helen." It contained a little ribbon do-funny concealing some lingerie tape and an ivory bodkin.

I laughed aloud. Little Phillip is a rip-snorting, mischievous small boy, without a feminine thought in his head. Of course I knew that he not only had not sent the fussy little case, but that he hadn't even seen it. It was sent by some of his feminine elders, and his name was pinned on it. I fell to wondering just what he would have sent me if he had picked it out himself. And I heartily wished he had!

That set me thinking of the amusing story I heard a few years ago of a little child who was given 15 cents apiece to spend for each member of his family, and sent out alone to do this Christmas shopping—with a watchful mother in the background, of course. He proclaimed, as we will do, that he hadn't the least idea what to give anybody.

"Pick out just what you think each one would like best of all," his mother advised him.

Well, he came back with gifts that exhibited his powers of observation, to say the least. He got his mother a ten-cent wrist watch, because he said he had heard her say the day before that "she wished that clock would stand still for several hours, she was so busy." He got one that would stand still forever! He chose a tack-hammer for his father, because "Daddy said, 'Where the devil did that tack-hammer go?'"—a remark which not only brought a blush of shame to the parental cheek but sent the rest of the family into shrieks of mirth. But best of all was the gift he got for grandfather. It was 15 cents' worth of American cheese, "because granddaddy said he liked cheese the best of all." It is safe to say that no other gift he received pleased that grandfather as much as the little wedge of cheese!

Who else would have thought of these things; how better could the little chap have shown his individuality, his personal observation and selection? Let's encourage the children to choose their own gifts instead of robbing them of this pleasure and bit of experience.

Christmas Feast in 200 A. D.
The very first evidence of a feast having been held in honor of the birth of Christ was in Egypt, about the year 200.

WHICH OF THE SIX?

THERE were six Santa Clauses in Sterberville, standing before various department stores and banks, and it began to trouble young Jackie Carter that there should be so many. Which one was the real Santa? There were certain things he wanted for Christmas and he didn't care to take a chance on asking the wrong man. He thought of giving the same list to all six, but while that would probably bring him his toys, it would not disclose the identity of the real Santa, and he began to have a genuinely overpowering curiosity to know which of the six was the true Kriss Kringle. After many anxious nights of tossing uneasily on his pillow, he hit upon an idea: He would ask each for a different toy and, of course, the one he received would be from the true Santa Claus.

Early Christmas morning young Jackie stole quietly down the stairs, alive with excitement. Cautiously he slipped into the living-room where the Christmas tree in all its tinkled glory stood among piles of toys. And there—Jackie was amazed!—there were all six toys he had asked for. "Well, what do you know about that?" was all Jackie could say, and, delighted to have them all, flew upstairs to tell his mother all about it.—Marion Reagan.

Yule—the Tide— of Happy Hearts by Frances Morgan

UGLY burrs and stinging nettles are found in the loveliest flower gardens—and, sad to say in this world there are folk who harbor a natural born hatred of the beautiful and finer things of life. They seem out of tune with their fellow men. Their dour faces are seen at every happy gathering and they'd rather go glooming through life forecasting disaster than to wear the lightest, cheerfulest heart in Christendom—in other words, they are happy only when sad.

And yet (oh, joy that if is true!) there is one season when these sour curmudgeons have a hard time enjoying life. This is the season of Yule—the Tide-of-Happy-Hearts.

Our ancestors had numerous ceremonies pertaining to Christmas that are half forgotten today. Snuggling shoulder to shoulder in a musty corner of an ancestral secretary for almost a century have reposed a half dozen faded volumes. A diligent search through them brought to light a veritable feast of quaint customs, ancient legends and "curiosities." The books in question were issued in 1827 by William Tegg & Co. of London, at 35 Queen street, Cheapside.

That it was on Christmas Eve in the year 1247 that a certain daring son of a noble house, one "Robin Hood," bid good-by to his doughty comrade, "Little John," and breathed his last beneath the ancient oaks that witnessed their bold escapades.

There was a pretty superstition connected with the decoration of houses with evergreen. It was believed that sylvan sprites might flock to the branches and remain unnnipped by frost until a milder season.

The popular expression, "sub rosa," meaning anything told in confidence, was derived from the old custom of guests wearing chaplets of holly, mistletoe, ivy and rosemary at the annual festivals where a rose generally was hung over the tables. The expression, "beneath the mistletoe" is said to have the same derivation.

And then we learn of the old superstition that oxen fell on their knees on Old Christmas, January 6. The belief was based on the medieval notion that the cattle in the stable, witnessing the Nativity, fell upon their knees in supplication.

Those who know something of the times of Charles II are familiar with the astonishing menus served guests by the noble hosts of that day. And those among the readers of these lines who imagine they will dine sumptuously when partaking of their roast turkey, cranberry sauce and all the "fixings" when the day of days arrives, should meditate on the following account of an almost unbelievable Christmas pie which is told about in the Newcastle Chronicle, January 3, 1770. Read it, my friend, and blush with mortification at your own unsophisticated gastronomic desires!

"Monday last was brought from Howick to Berwick, to be shipped to London, for Sir Hen. Grey, bart., a pie, the contents whereof are as follows, viz.: 2 bushels of flour, 20 pounds of butter, 4 geese, 2 turkeys, 2 rabbits, 4 wild ducks, 2 woodcocks, 6 snipes and 4 partridges; 2 neats' tongues, 2 curlews, 7 blackbirds, and 6 pigeons. The Christmas pie was made by Mrs. Dorothy Patterson, housekeeper at Howick. It is near 9 feet in circumference at the bottom, weighs about 12 stones, will take 2 men to present it at table; it is neatly fitted with a case and four small wheels to facilitate its use to every guest that inclines to partake of its contents at table."

Young and Blackburn Get Letters From Southwestern

Georgetown, Texas, Dec. 7, 1927.—Sixteen men were awarded the football "S" by the Athletic Council of Southwestern University this week, as Coach Lefty Edens' Pirates closed what has been an unusual successful season. Half of them have earned it for the first time, but eight are old letter men.

Joe Allen of Georgetown, "noted baseball fielder won his first football letter this season as half. Other new letter men are: A. L. (Andy) Andrews and Leigh Andrews of San Antonio, guards; Edwin Franklin of Troy, end; Lloys John of Georgetown, full; W. E. (Brick) Lowry of Wichita Falls, guard; Robert Safley of Belton, guard and A. L. Smith of Lufkin, full.

Successful contestants in former Pirate gridiron contests who have annexed another "S" are: H. C. (Chief) Ballow of Frost, end; Wesley Blackburn of Rockdale, quarter; Herschal Brannen of Trinity, half; Claus Hallmark of Meridian, half; Captain M. L. (Hog) Hodges of Marlin, tackle; Don Johns of Georgetown, center; Lee (Cheese) Lehmberg of Crockett, center; and Fred M. (Unk) Young of Cameron, full.

In Shakespeare's "Two Gentlemen of Verona," the two principals travel from Verona to Milan by water, despite the fact that both cities are inland with no water to connect them.

The boats used by the ancient Egyptians were large enough to carry 4,000 rowers, four hundred sailors, and 3,000 soldiers.

Party for Tiny Tots

Last Saturday afternoon at three o'clock Mrs. Howard Edminston invited several little "first" friends of her tiny daughter, Mary Jane to her home to enjoy a birthday party for she and little friends of Rose Margaret Hutcherson, whose birthdays occur on the same day, December 2. These dear little Misses were just one and were so cute and attractive and seemed perfectly at home with those little friends and entered into the games and entertainment as though they understood it was for them. In the dining room of the home was a tiny tea table and chairs in pink enamel on which were placed two cakes iced in white on one was the name Rose Margaret, in pink and on the other was Mary Jane. On each burned one tiny pink taper in a pink rose bud. While the candles were burning Mrs. Hutcherson gave thanks in a sweet and appropriate manner. Many pictures were taken of the children during the afternoon.

Mrs. Edminston was assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. J. Edminston and Mrs. Harvey Dobbins and served cherry cream with angel squares topped with cherries.

These little Misses received many gifts both useful and beautiful. Those enjoying this happy occasion were Little Frances Kilian, Masters J. M. Coleman, Morris Eplen, James Brock and Joe Bill White and the two little honorees, Madams Jessie Brock, Dow Eplen, J. W. Coleman, Harvey Dobbins, E. S. Hutcherson, Martin Kilian Mrs. M. J. Edminston, Mrs. Howard Edminston, sister, Miss Jewel Condra of Taylor, Mrs. White and Mrs. Hackabail.

Night and Day in Santa Claus Tree

Two Youngsters Have Exciting Part in Church Christmas Celebration.

By FRANK HERBERT SWEET

IN'T — never — seen a — Crismus tree, Limp?"

"Naw."

"Not one?"

"Ain't I told you, Mugs. Never been out the city."

"That's nothin'. I ain't, neither. But I've seen trees, no end, in windows, front of stores, an' round markets where they stand like—like woods, an' jest as green. An' say, I've seen dogs runnin' 'mong 'em barkin', like they's bears way back in. Why, they're everywhere long Crismus. Course you've seen some."

"Tell you, I ain't. Guess I know. My street don't have none. Sides, I ain't been goin' round till lately."

"That's so," agreed his companion, with a sudden change from derision to the deepest sympathy; "you've had to be a bed kid. I kind o' forgot, you beppin' round so spry on that crutch. Spect you'll throw the extra leg away some day."

"Spect I will."

"Go anywhere you like, I guess, now. Ah'm bein' dead."

"Anywhere. Own boss. Never been

"Go 'Long With Me to Where Crismus Trees Hang Out—" this far out before," proudly. "Guess I'll go streets an' streets some time."

"Say," with sudden inspiration, "go 'long with me to where Crismus trees hang out—hundreds an' hundreds, where I seen the dogs chasin' mebbe years. Tain't more'n six or eight blocks. I'll go slow, so you can keep up."

"Keep up your grubby!" scorned

Santa Taking Orders

Limp. "Bet I can race an' beat you half. Game legs gettin' so I can bend it some, now. Sure, I can beat you with three legs."

"Come on, then."

They made good time the six or eight blocks, but before covering them Limp was going very slowly and his face was white.

Then he caught a sight of the trees, and his pain was forgotten, and the whiteness became a wonderful flush.

"So them's trees—Crismus trees," he breathed. "Ain't they—pretty?"

"What are you doing there, boys," suddenly demanded the owner of the trees, as the two approached near enough for Limp to thrust an ecstatic arm into the green foliage.

"This feller's been in bed 'most all his life, till lately, an' ain't never seen a Crismus tree afore," explained Mugs. "He's gettin' loony over 'em."

The man looked at Limp curiously, his gaze growing more kindly.

"All right. Go ahead," he nodded. "Help yourself. I think myself they're pretty enough to go a little loony over."

Thus permitted, the boys pushed their way deep among the evergreens. There were little ones for table use, and from that all the way up to great trees thirty or forty feet high, for church or large building. Some of these big trees had open branches one could see among, while others were so dense that a person a few feet up the trunk was wholly invisible.

The boys, of course, chose one of the dense trees to push their way up into, ten or twelve feet. It suggested mystery and bears.

"Ain't it nice an' warm in here," said Limp drowsily. "I believe I could go to sleep. I didn't sleep much last night, bein' so cold."

"Go ahead," encouraged Mugs. "Mebbe I'll join you. Couldn't find a nicer an' warmer place. An' bein' so thick we couldn't fall down, though I'm goin' to fix myself cross-legged on the branches, with my arms wrapped round."

"Me—too," sleepily.

It was only a little past noon. About four o'clock several men pushed their way among the big trees, examining and comparing them.

Finally the densely-branched one in which the boys were sleeping, was selected.

"No, He Ain't Dead, Only Fainted From Exhaustion."

Workmen quickly appeared, to lift it into a truck, and only when it was being raised from the ground to the truck did the boys awake, at first bewildered.

Then their arms closed frantically about the trunk, with visions of policemen and station houses keeping them silent. They would have to wait until the tree stopped shaking, with the coast clear below, and then sneak down and send away.

But it did not clear away below.

At the church to which the tree was carried, more people joined the workmen handling the tree; and within the church, while being set up, still other voices, many of them ladies, rose to the strained ears of the boys.

"Have to wait till it grows dark, seems," whispered Mugs hoarsely, to Limp. "Can you hold out?"

"Course."

Then a bombshell exploded in rather a soft voice.

"Guess a few of us would better stay here all night to hang the church greenery and get the tree decorated to be ready for the presents tomorrow. Ought to have had the tree here to commence on several days ago. But that's the usual way of the buying 'roundtree, at the last moment."

"All right. We can make a good start tonight, and tomorrow there'll be a superabundance of help."

There was. So the boys clung to the tree all night, and all the next day while the outer ends of the branches were covered with many kinds of presents, and on into the evening when the church filled to overflowing. And all the time Limp's face was growing whiter and whiter.

It was just when the presents were being removed that the tenacious will faltered, and the white-faced boy went limp and slid from branch to branch, and so to the floor, the crutch clattering on ahead.

That was more than Mugs could stand. He forgot policemen and station houses, and hung himself down, regardless of body and dislodged presents.

"He ain't dead?" he sobbed. "Limp ain't dead, is he?"

Men and women gathered about them, and listened to Mugs' rambling, disjointed story. One man was kneeling beside Limp.

"No, he isn't dead," he assured Mugs, "only fainted from exhaustion."

Then, to those around, "I had not thought of any present to me, and just slipped in to look on. But it seems I am having the most important gift of all. I am a surgeon, and my car is outside. I will take the boy to my hospital at once."

"I'm goin'," declared Mugs.

"No, my boy, not now. You will go with me to my place in the country. But I will take you in to see your friend every day. When he gets well he'll come out to join us."

"Will he get well?"

"No question of it, I think. And neither of you will ever need to get into a Christmas tree to get warm again."

Advice to Santa

Children who write letters to Santa Claus might advise him not to get too close to open flames or his whiskers and trimmings are liable to catch on fire, suggests the national safety council.

Through Sleepers on Missouri Pacific to City of Mexico

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 7.—Establishment of new through sleeping car and dining car service by the Missouri Pacific Lines and the National Railways of Mexico between St. Louis and Mexico City was announced here today by C. E. Perkins, vice president in charge of traffic.

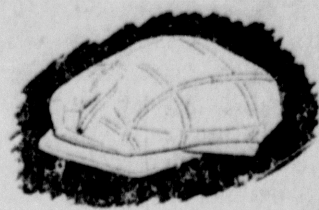

The first through cars left St. Louis last night on the Sunshine Special. Incidentally the new service was inaugurated on the twelfth anniversary of this train, the first Sunshine Special between St. Louis and the Southwest having left here on December 5, 1915. Through service to Mexico City is seen in railroad and business circles here not only as an indication of the restoration of normal conditions in Mexico, but of the increasing amount of travel to and from the Southern Republic.

According to Mr. Perkins, there is a growing amount of interest in Mexico on the part of tourists and pleasure seekers, and for several months there have been a marked increase in the amount of travel to Mexico by representatives of business interests and others. It is said that inquiries from prospective tourists about Mexico are heavier now than at any time in the last several years, reflecting, it is declared, a growing belief that Mexico's turbulent days are at an end. The Mexican National Lines are in splendid physical condition, and active co-operation by them in the establishment of the new service is taken to mean that Mexico regards herself as now in a position to welcome tourists.

Experienced travelers say that Mexico boasts more interesting sights and more places of historic and scenic beauty than many of the foreign lands which annually attract thousands of American tourists. With through service to the capital and a very evident desire on the part of the Mexican government and the people to welcome Americans, there is every reason to believe that Mexico will attract countless tourists this winter, said Mr. Perkins.

For several years the Sunshine

Special has provided Mexico City service by car to car transfer. The establishment of a through car eliminates the necessity for a change at Laredo and will, it is believed, do much toward the further re-establishment of confidence in the normalcy of the Southern Republic.

WHITE HOUSE POKER GAME TOLD OF IN FIRST INSTALLMENT OF FORBES' INSIDE STORY ABOUT "OHIO GANG"

New York, Dec. 3.—The New York World will publish tomorrow the first of a series of articles purporting to reveal the "inside story of the Ohio gang" and in intimate details of the Harding administration, written by Col. Charles R. Forbes, former head of the United States Veteran Bureau, recently released after serving part of a two year prison sentence for defrauding the Government on hospital contracts.

Forbes' story, which will appear also in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, broadly sketches the Harding regime from the pre-senatorial days of Harding until his death. Covering his Washington experiences, Forbes tells of a poker party at the White House describes $75,000 in bills of large denominations lying on a table in the Department of Justice offices, declares Dr. Sawyer, Harding's personal physician, proved a pernicious meddler in governmental affairs and asserts that the late President finally was "betrayed by his friends."

Describing the White House poker game, Forbes writes:

"The poker party was held the following evening in the library of the White House. It was like many similar parties which were held there. We played at a rectangular table in the north end of the room. On this particular occasion the President sat at one end and Will Hays, who was then the Postmaster General, at the other. The others there were Albert Lasker, at that time chairman of the Shipping Board; Harry Daugherty, Ned McLean, Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Harding. Mrs. Harding did not play—she often sat with us at poker games, but never played. I remember that it was very hot and that Albert Lasker took his coat off, displaying red suspenders two inches wide. I won $379 and Will Hays won. The losers all paid up promptly.

"During the game Ned McLean announced that Jack Johnson, the prize fighter, was to be discharged from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, and either Ned or Albert Lasker exclaimed: 'Why, his old mother used to work for me and he has a fine of $1,000 hanging over him and can't pay it.' Ned McLean said: 'Albert, I'll give $500 and you give $500 and we will pay his fine.' The President spoke up: 'Don't let that worry you; I'll remit the fine,' and the game went on."

As to the late President himself, Forbes declares he is "satisfied" that Harding received none of the spoils of alleged Administration graft and was honest in performance of his duties.

"Warren G. Harding," Forbes writes "was a much misunderstood man. If he erred in the administration of his high office it was solely out of an excess of loyalty to friends whom the world now knows to have been faithless. I am confident that before he departed from Alaska he had begun to suspect what these men had done to him and to the country, and that this suspicion contributed to his untimely death."

At the outset of his story, Forbes denies that Harry Daugherty whom he calls "the evil genius of the Administration," was responsible for President Harding's nomination by the Republican party in 1920. As early as 1915, Harding had been discussed as a Presidential possibility by Theodore Roosevelt, at a New York conference which Forbes attended, he asserts.

Sketching the "Ohio gang" that Daugherty had brought to Washington, Forbes tells of many of Daugherty's transactions in the "little green house on K Street." Apparently there was friction between Forbes and Daugherty for the former Veterans Bureau executive asserts that when he wished to do something to check narcotiff traffic in Federal prisons Daugherty blocked him.

"From my own recent experience in the penitentiary at Leavenworth," Forbes continues, "I know that the appalling evil which I described to him (Daugherty) still exists in our penal institutions. Narcotics can be had by any prisoner if he has the money to buy them."

"On one occasion," Forbes' story says, 'I saw in Jess Smith's office in the Department of Justice Building $75,000 in $1,000 bills. The wind blew them off a table onto the floor and I helped to pick them up. Jess said they belonged to Daugherty.'

Discussing Dr. Sawyer, the country homeopathic physician whom President Harding put into a brigadier-general's uniform," Forbes declared that Dr. Sawyer was the first man to reach him after he (Forbes) had been made director of the War Risk Insurance Bureau by the President.

"Now let's do some real work," Sawyer greeted him, Forbes says, and promptly suggested that he 'kick out' the medical director of the Bureau. From then on, Forbes writes Dr. Sawyer tried to 'dominate the Bureau and its employees,' establishing a 'stool pigeon system in the Bureau and other departments of the Government as well."

Rub Rheumatic Pain From Aching Joints

Rub Pain right out with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil."

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappears and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Linger up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

A Christmas Song

By TUDOR JENKS

WHEN mother-love makes all things bright,
When joy comes with the morning light,
When children gather round their tree,
Thou Christmas Babe,
We sing of Thee!

When manhood's brows are bent in thought
To learn what men of old have taught,
When eager hands seek wisdom's key
Wise Temple Child,
We learn of Thee!

When doubts assail, and perils fright,
When, groping blindly in the night,
We strive to read life's mystery,
Man of the Mount,
We turn to Thee!

When shadows of the valley fall,
When sin and death the soul appal,
One light we through the darkness see—
Christ on the Cross
We cry to Thee!

And when the world shall pass away,
And dawn at length the perfect day,
In glory shall our souls made free,
Thou God enthroned,
Then worship Thee.

A Christmas Prayer,

O God, who makes us glad with the yearly remembrance of the birth of Thine only Son, Jesus Christ; grant that as we joyfully receive Him for our Redeemer so we may with sure confidence behold Him when He shall come to be our Judge, who now liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen.

NOTICE! To Auto Owners

Number plates and supplies for the registration of cars for 1928 have been received at the office of the Tax Collector for Milam County and this notice is given for the information of car owners who want to register their cars now.

By receiving these supplies early the office is able to give the car owners better service as the large detail of getting the cars registered in advance of heavy tax paying time is a great convenience to owners as well as the office force.

Early registration of your automobile is urged. Your attention is called to the requirement of headlight certificate. Before your car can be registered you must have a certificate from a headlight station showing that the lights on your car have been properly adjusted. These certificates must accompany application for license plates at the office of the collector.

This notice is given for the convenience of the people who own cars and trucks and with the view of giving more efficient service.

ROY LAW
TAX COLLECTOR, MILAM COUNTY.

Next year, of all years, you will need the best. A President, United States Senator, Governor and other State officials will be elected.

Our Christmas Shopping and the Joy of Giving

THE joyful season of the year has come. The Christmas spirit surges through the Christian world. With a wealth of kindly thought it has brought the time of Christmas trade. The universal custom of giving gifts makes everybody richer and nobody poorer. The Christmas spirit is a sacred thing that sanctifies the humble things of life. It kindles generous love in the callous breasts of men. It brightens the dreary homes of earth and hangs the star of hope above the palace and the cabin. It leads to light and life the nobler traits of men. It is the finest asset of civilization.

Christmas shopping is but a kindly way of thinking about friends and friendships—a concrete expression of human love and hope. It brings a sweet and subtle joy to those who give and happiness to whom is given. It builds a fire on the cheerless hearth and re-warms the ties of home and kin. It lifts the burdens of the heavy laden and to every pilgrim reveals the star of Bethlehem. Gifts rightly given enrich the giver.

Out of the over-bending heavens came the spirit of giving. Heaven is always giving. Heralded by angels into the night of Bethlehem came the gift of life and joy—the richest—the rarest gift of earth or heaven. That giving quickened the generosity of rich and poor. It prompted the return of the best that men have to give. The rich gave gold, frankincense and myrrh, but the poor outrank them far and being the alabaster box of love.

From that manger cradle the Christmas spirit has wandered far and wide. The spirit of Christmas—the spirit of giving has followed the star down through the ages and the world is vastly richer. Speed, unhampered, the Christmas joy and let the giving of gifts speak the language of human souls. Fare forth to the temples of sale, where dealers are ministering priests at the altars of trade and if you lack the price of jewels remember that nothing is too cheap or poor to bear the warmth of friendship and sincerity.—William L. Gaston.

Sheriff's Sale

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Milam.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Milam County, of the 22nd day of October, 1927, by L. T. Lewis, for the use and benefit of Tom Conway, trustee in bankruptcy of John W. House, bankrupt for the sum of Twenty-two hundred sixty-eight and 75-100 Dollars and costs of suit, under a foreclosure of lien, in favor of L. T. Lewis in a certain cause in said Court No. 9669 and styled L. T. Lewis vs. A. A. Baggett, placed in my hands for service, I, L. L. Blaylock as Sheriff of Milam County, Texas, did on the 23rd day of November 1927, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Milam County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: Being an undivided 1-7 in that certain oil lease on 50 acres of land situated in Milam County, Texas, and being a part of the A. F. Burchard survey, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a P. O. in tank in gully for N. W. cor of this; Thence S. 46 E. 700 vrs. to S. W. cor of this in Cattail branch supposed to be the N. E. cor of the A. B. Chappel tracts; Thence down said branch with its meanders to mouth of gully; Thence up said gully with its meanders to the place of beginning excepting 7 acres in the N. E. cor and being the same land leased by W. P. Henry and wife to A. E. Perry trustee by an instrument of record in Book 1 page 197 of the Oil and gas lease records of Milam County, Texas, and being the same 50 acres of land described in an assignment from J. Emmett Baird to J. J. Pierce dated March 30, 1922 of record in Book 5 page 605 of the oil and gas lease records, to which above mentioned instruments and the records thereof reference is here made for a more complete description of said 50 acre leasehold and levied upon as the property of A. A. Baggett and that on the first Tuesday in January 1928, the same being the 3rd day of said month at the Court House door, of Milam county, in the city of Cameron, Texas between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. by virtue of said levy and said order of sale I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said A. A. Baggett.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Cameron Herald, a newspaper published in Milam County.

Witness my hand, this 23rd day of November 1927.

L. L. BLAYLOCK, Sheriff,
Milam County, Texas.

31-3tc Will Vaughan, Deputy.

Progressive Santa

LONG years ago old Santa came
With reindeer, in a sleigh,
Slid down the chimney, some toys
And then he drove away.

In later years he rode a wheel
And came in through the door.
'Twas out of date for him to use
The chimney any more.

A motorcycle next he bought—
How his fat sides did shake!
He had behind him firmly tied,
His pack—all he could take.

And after that his auto car
Stopped way out by the gate.
He told his chauffeur he'd be back
Before so very late.

This year I'm sure we shall not hear
Him chugging down the lane.
He'll sweep down on us from above!
He'll come by airplane!

And after that? Oh, goodness knows
Just how he'll come! I know
Perhaps some time he'll send his gifts
To us by radio.

Terrell Demands of Gulf Sulphur Co. Showdown on Taxes

Austin, Texas, Dec. 7.—Litigation involving an amount revaluing the Waters-Pierce fine loomed as a probability this week when Comptroller Sam Houston Terrell demanded a showdown upon his contention that the Texas Gulf Sulphur company and the Freeport Sulphur company owe the State of Texas $1,401,894.89 in past due gross production taxes. Of this amount $889,767.96 is claimed from the Texas Gulf and $512,126.93 from the Freeport Sulphur company.
Comptroller Terrell returned the most recent quarterly reports submitted by the Sulphur companies, together with accompanying remittances and announced that unless the companies promptly pay their taxes,

"the case will be turned over to the attorney general's department and the full force of this (the Comptroller's) office will be placed at his disposal to support the claim."

The two companies involved in the dispute control three-fourths of the world's sulphur production. They are the only companies operating in Texas or in the United States.

Since the gross production tax on sulphur became effective, on June 13, 1923, the sulphur companies have uniformly based their tax remittances on a valuation of $10 per long ton of crude sulphur. Figures obtained by the Comptroller through the United States bureau of mines show that average actual prices have ranged from $15 to $19 per ton. Thus, according to the Comptroller "the State has received, every quarter since the tax was imposed, thousands of dollars less than it should have received."

So far as can be judged from correspondence on file in the Comptroller's office, the defense of the companies is that they have regarded the gross production tax as a severance tax and have considered $10 a ton a fair basis for such taxation. This defense was noticed by the Comptroller in a statement announcing the return of the sulphur companies' reports and remittances. "There is no merit in the argument," he said. "The law declares itself an occupation tax law, and similar laws have been held to be occupation tax laws by the courts."

The law provides for a tax equal to 2 per cent of the sulphur produced "at the average market value thereof." One-fourth of the tax goes to the school fund.

"There is no economic and certainly no legal reason," said the Comptroller in his statement, "why these great corporations should not pay their just taxes. Patience has ceased to be a virtue in the dispute between the companies and this office and they will not be permitted to deprive our school children of benefits rightfully theirs while exploiting the natural resources of this State."

Announcement Party
Mrs. J. B. Kopisch gave a beautiful dinner bridge party, at which she announced the approaching marriage of Miss Ethel Goldberg, daughter of this city to George R. Minns of Granger.

The reception rooms of the home at 110 West Barton avenue, were attractively decorated with bride's buds and ferns, with a touch of the holiday motif. Little Miss Katherine Kopisch, dressed in a fluffy pink costume, passed the hand painted announcement cards which revealed the happy secret,
"Minns-Goldberg, December 20, 1927."
Dinner was served on game tables which were laid with covers of dainty linen. Delicious chicken a la king in pastry cups, peas in potato nests garnished with pimiento flowers, pineapple salad, olives hot buttered rolls, coffee, jell-o pudding topped with whipped cream and cherries were served. Nosegays of bride's buds and ferns were favors beside each cover.

Tally cards picturing pretty bridesmaids in pink frocks were passed for the game, and, at the close of the evening, Mrs. Charles Zidell held high score and received a pair of lovely hand painted candles. The cut prize, a pair of decorated shoe trees, went to Miss Opal Cooper. The hostess presented Miss Goldberg with a silver bon bon tray, and to Mrs. Jake Abrams, a recent bride, she presented a crystal lemon set.

Those present to enjoy this delightful affair were: The honoree,
Miss Ethel Goldberg; Mesdames Sam
Hendler, Tyra Morgan, James Clark,
Jake Abrams of Cameron Harold Lee,
Reid McAlexander, Frank Burwitz,
Herbert Marberger, Edward Pace,
Charles Zidell and W. A. Chernosky;
Misses Opal Coper, Lelia Lang, Lilian
and Annie Belle Kopisch, Mrs. Kopisch was assisted in dispensing her gracious hospitality by Mrs. Bill Hilli-burton.

The above will be of interest to many Cameron friends as Miss Ethel Goldberg at one time made her home here with her parents. Mrs. Jake Abrams lives in Cameron and was formerly Miss Rose Goldberg and is a sister of Miss Ethel.

CALLES IN ROLE OF BULL FIGHTER AT ARENA

BARELY ESCAPES INJURY IN DARING METHOD OF ENTER-TAINING GUESTS

Aboard Presidential Train, Monterrey, Mexico, Dec. 5.—President Calles has assumed the role of a bullfighter as one of the latest methods of entertaining Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador and other guests during their tour of northern Mexico. While provoking bulls into charges, Calles twice escaped injury when he fell.

At a ranch near Aguascalientes, the president and his guests, including the American ambassador and Will Rogers, Saturday were watching a bull fight in a private ring. Calles leaped into the bull ring with a frolicsome spirit of a school boy. As the ambassador gazed apprehensively, Calles seized a bullfighter's cloak and performed a number of dangerous 'passes' or waves of the crimson cloak before a charging bull.

Each time the president skillfully avoided the horns of the charging animal and drew applause. Twice during his performance, he slipped and fell in front of charging animals, which were young bulls not fully grown. Each time other bullfighters diverted the animal from Calles by waving their crimson cloaks and inducing the bull to charge in another direction.

No animals were killed in the fighting, which was an exhibition without weapons. After the president had left the ring, however, a youth attempting the same stunts slipped and was tossed by a bull. He was gored in the leg, but not seriously.

After Calles had performed with the crimson cloak he took a lasso and gave an exhibition of roping several young bulls. Then panting, he climbed back into the grandstand, his neat black business suit covered with dust. On being told that the performance looked dangerous, he said:

"Oh, it wasn't very dangerous—but I am accustomed to danger."

The crowd demanded that Rogers enter the ring, but he declined, saying that he had neglected to take out a bullfighter's license and that Calles had already outclassed him.

Previous to the performance at the bull ring, the president led in singing of folk songs with Governor Deleon of Aguascalientes. He played the guitar at the hacienda.

Ambassador Morrow commented to Rogers on the impressions of the scene. Rogers demanded silence and turning to Calles, told him what Morrow had said. He added that Morrow had remarked, "How can we have serious thought of armed conflict with such people?"

Calles sprang to his feet, his face beaming with pleasure and extended his hand to Morrow. The Ambassador arose and grasped it. The crowd cheered.

In many places the ambassador has been cheered the same as the president. Among the people in the places visited the description of Morrow most often heard is 'amigo' (friend.)

The Post-Dispatch will not only bring the world to your breakfast table, but it will bring you a smile, a hearty chuckle and a word of good cheer, a feeling that will help you start the day with that assurance that all is right with the world.

The supreme goal of the Post-Dispatch is to make its news columns fair and just and accurate. It hopes to be entirely unbiased, without favoritism to friend or prejudice against foe. Its policy is friendship, without fear, and it seeks to satisfy that need you have for a newspaper companionship. It is edited and managed by folks just like you, and it desires above all else to be your good neighbor, helpful in need, sympathetic in your distress and a cheerful good fellow with you in your happier moments.

It will tell you what is going on in the world of business, in the realm of sports; the high adventures of men and women and children throughout the land that is yours. It can not fail to tell you of a few of the frailties of some of your neighbors. Some of them falter or trip into the wrong paths. You must know about it. But as far as possible it will be the news of a cheerful world, the folks who are achieving things and climbing to better stations.

We earnestly solicit your subscription. You can mail your order direct to the Post-Dispatch, Houston, Texas, through our agent in your town, who will appreciate your business and will gladly send it in for you.

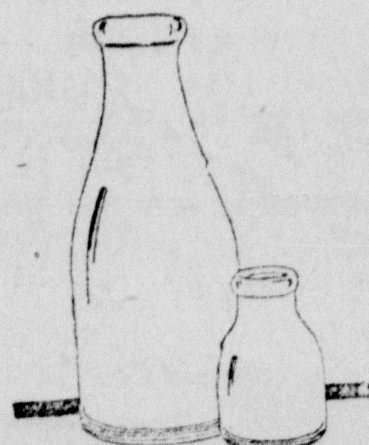

Zone Meeting

The zone meeting No. 2 of the Martin District met in Cameron church November 30. Mrs. I. P. Sessions of Rockdale was leader. Mrs. J. H. Kirk of Ben Arnold led the devotion from Romans. Mrs. Kemp gave a welcome address. Mrs. J. C. Wallace gave the response. Mrs. W. O. Triggs, district secretary gave a talk on Missionary Work. Mrs. A. C. Schradies of Rosebud told what women work has done for me.

Bro. Smith of Rockdale and Rev. Ramsey of Cameron talked on what the women's work had meant to them as pastors. Mrs. Glass gave a reading. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. O. K. Phillips; Assistant chairman, Mrs. J. C. Wallace; Secretary, Mrs. W. P. McCall. There were five auxiliaries represented by five to eight members. The ladies of the church served fruit punch and sandwiches.

Christian Aid

The ladies of the Christian church met last Monday at the home of Mrs. Raymond Beard for a Missionary program on foreign missions. Mrs. Wooley was leader. Mrs. Jones gave a vocal solo. After the program the ladies enjoyed a delightful social hour. Monday of this week the ladies met at the church for a business meeting presided over by Mrs. Martin Kilian, president.

At Christmas Time

By Rosa Russell Ingels
in Missouri Farmer

Like a golden treasure chest
My memory is to me.
There is a lock that holds it fast,
With thought the magic key.

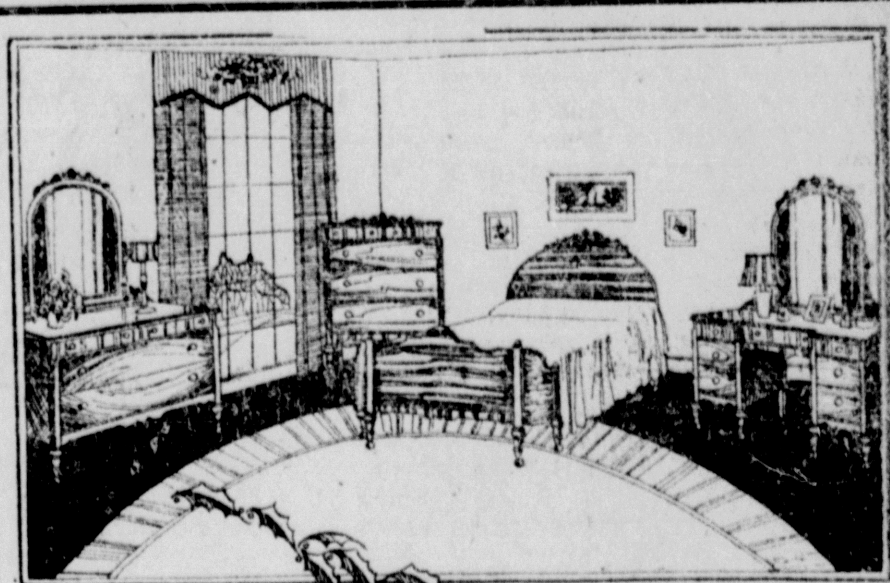

Comrades of the years are there,
Friendly face and master mind.
Ready wit and merry heart,
Souls tested true and kind.

Some struck a spark—then away,
Some lingered close and long.
Some sounded the sacred deeps,
Some sang a single song.

The key turns now at Christmas time,
The treasures to recall
With gentle and tender prayer
Of gratitude for all.

The president of Czechoslovakia is elected for life.

According to Herr Emil Ludwig,
Otto von Bismarck smoked 100,000 cigars and drank 5,000 bottles of champagne in 5 years.
